

WADDES DON

Learning

Waddesdon was started by Baron Ferdinand de Rothschild in 1874 and his first guests slept here in 1880. His architect was a French man named Gabriel-Hippolyte Destailleur

He bought the land in 1874, but there was nothing on it. Ferdinand brought in all the materials he needed by a specially created railway line. He even had mature trees brought in to create the perfect landscape.

Our challenge to you...

Become an architect and build your own Waddesdon Manor!

You can use any material you like, the more creative the better! Try cardboard, cereal boxes, Lego, or perhaps cake!

We want to see your best designs, so get creative, snap a photo and share it with us at:
